Nurses Receive $143,000 Grant

The College of Nursing has received a $143,730 federal grant to develop and expand its public health program, Dean Martha P. Jayne has announced.

Prof. Jayne, said the grant had been approved by the Public Health Service department of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and would become effective next January.

Disbursements of the grant are to be made over the next five years. The sum to be received for the first 12 months is $27,015 with subsequent annual disbursements of $27,015, $28,400, $29,900 and $31,400.

Dean Jayne said the grant would be used to improve and enrich the public health nursing program already in existence at the University, to provide more effective use of the present public health nursing faculty as well as increase the number of faculty members teaching public health nursing; and to assist public health nursing agencies in southwest Connecticut and the Naugatuck valley to develop resources to provide clinical experience for students studying public health nursing.

Students enrolled in the four-year basic nursing program as well as registered nurses who are graduates of hospital schools of nursing and are studying for a baccalaureate degree at the College of Nursing receive eight weeks of public health nursing experience as part of their total education.

Increased enrollment in the College of Nursing has resulted in need for more agencies where students can gain public health clinical experience in the field, Dean Jayne observed. The grant from the federal government will enable the College of Nursing to meet this demand as well as take care of future increases in enrollment, she said.

Full-time student enrollment at the College of Nursing currently includes 96 students registered in the four-year basic nursing program and 21 registered nurses studying for the baccalaureate degree.

Connecticut is in the lowest quarter of all states in its number of public health nurses who have adequate educational preparation in public health, according to national statistics.

Public health nurses in Connecticut are prepared only in collegiate schools of nursing. The College of Nursing has one of two such programs in the state offering a baccalaureate degree and has the only non-tax-supported program. It is the only College of Nursing in the state where graduates of diploma nursing schools can further their education.

A survey of public health nursing agencies in southwestern Connecticut and the Naugatuck valley to determine resources for public health clinical experience for University nursing students was conducted by Miss Faye Kubichek of the nursing faculty this spring under a $3,000 grant from the New Haven foundation. Results of the survey were a factor in the receipt of the federal grant.

Grants totaling $58,977 also have been received by the College of Nursing since 1958 from the Department of Health, Welfare and Education to provide traineeships to graduate nurses for advanced training in the areas of administration, supervision and teaching.

Hamilton Merrill, a member of the University's board of trustees and chairman of the development committee of the College of Nursing was honored last week by committee members and the administration for his leadership which has attained all the goals of the development committee as established in 1956.

Student Center Bids Received

The John Zandonella Company, builders of the New Dorms, have been named the low bidders for the new Student Union building, but they have not been awarded the contract as yet, announced Dr. Henry W. Littlefield, vice-president.

The Zandonella Co. bid $1,160,400, a sum considerably higher than expected, stated Dr. Littlefield. The Board of Trustees will have to review the bid and try to cut the cost down.

Littlefield added that the Trustees do not want to cut out air conditioning or cut down the size of the building, but steps must be taken to lower the cost. They should reach a decision soon so, that construction can begin. Littlefield said.

Completion of the structure to be located at Park Place and Myrtle Ave. is scheduled for September of next year. Demolition of Stamford hall, a dormitory for men located at the site has been completed.

Financing of the Student Center has been made possible under a $900,000 loan from the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the Federal government and pledges of $100,000 from Charles Anderson Dana and University alumni. Remaining funds will be raised through student contributions and fees.

Voter's Class Absence Tolerated

The University in compliance with Gov. Abraham Ribicoff's request and the University's philosophy of encouraging responsible citizenship, has agreed to tolerate absences of students who need to travel sizeable distances on Election Day, Nov. 8 to exercise their voting privilege, states Dr. Alfred Wolff, director of Student Personnel.

Students, who live in the Greater Bridgeport area, will be expected to attend all their classes. Other registered voters, who must miss at least one class in order to exercise their voting franchise, should inform the instructors of the reason in advance of their intended absence.

Pres. James H. Halsey has asked that any questions concerning the interpretation of this policy be referred to the Office of Student Personnel.

POLITICS CAN BE FUN — At least Dave Simpson thinks so. Simpson is the head of the Young Republicans on campus and had the opportunity of meeting Miss Annette Driggers, 20 Miss United States, at the recent rally for Vice-Pres. Richard M. Nixon in Bridgeport.

OTHER TEAMS BENEFIT

Many rumors have been circulating around the campus for the past few days about the suspension of one of the University's best soccer players from the team roster.

The suspension occurred after the player in question made a rough remark at a recent game that didn't meet with the soccer coach's approval. Reliable sources have told us what happened at the game and many spectators within earshot of the player, when the remark was made, failed to hear it.

When an attempt was made by the Scribe to have the situation clarified by the coach in order to present the facts accurately to the students, he bluntly refused to make any statement.

We feel that we should take a stand on this problem because it is not simply a matter of disagreement between a coach and a player. The soccer team is now a matter of concern to all students at the University because of the prominence it has brought to the school throughout the country.

Dr. Halsey's College Plan Published in Nat'l. Journal

A plan of action for solving the impending crisis in higher education originally proposed by University president James H. Halsey in a speech at a meeting of the Connecticut Council of Higher Education last April, has appeared in the October issue of the "Educational Record," published by the American Council on Education.

Dr. Halsey noted in his speech that there will be from 46,000 to 64,000 students seeking entrance in Connecticut institutions of higher education by 1965. On the other hand, Dr. Halsey said, that, there will be room for only 41,000 of these students in college that year. This means that from 5,000 to 23,000 students will be refused admission because of the lack of room and facilities.

According to Dr. Halsey, the problem is probably similar in other states. He noted that, although state and study committees have formed in several states, very few have followed the suggestions of their committees.

The plan Dr. Halsey proposes calls for three fundamental changes in the traditional practices of colleges and universities.

First, the University of Connecticut should become an upper-division school, with courses offered only on the junior and senior level. Only students who have completed the first two years of college will be eligible to enter UConn under this plan.

Second, the State Department of Education should establish a state-wide junior college transfer program, using all existing institutions. Students who complete one of these programs could then transfer to UConn.

Third, a program of grants and scholarships should be set up to help the students in the junior colleges, and to allow those institutions to expand their facilities.

This plan, Dr. Halsey revealed is already feasible because of the strong position of the state university, and the number of institutions in existence which could be utilized into the junior college transfer program.

He said that UConn is ideally suited to concentration on upper-division and graduate work, since it possesses a good faculty and is already expanding and improving its programs rapidly.

Dr. Halsey noted that establishing the two year programs would not be too difficult. One of the reasons for this, he added, is that UConn is already using this program in a limited way. The school has established four branches offering two-year courses from which students transfer to the Storrs campus as juniors to complete their education.

President Halsey listed several institutions which probably would not participate in the two-year program. Yale, Wesleyan, Connecticut College and Trinity, as well as the denominational schools are on the list, due to their restricted programs and objectives and limited enrollments, Dr. Halsey stated. All others, he said, including state and private colleges and branches of UConn would probably participate.

He noted that there would be at least one community junior college transfer program within 20 or 25 miles of every town in Connecticut if his proposal went into action.

The financing of such a program is not an insurmountable one, Dr. Halsey noted. He said that since the state is already appropriating funds for other educational ventures, the possibilities are great that funds could be obtained. He added that voting funds for private colleges to (continued on page 2)

CHEER CONTEST

The Homecoming Committee of the Student Council has announced a cheer contest, open to all students.

Submit your short, easy-to-learn cheer on 8 x 11 paper, signed with your name and address, to the Student Council mailbox. Prizes will be awarded.

The contest closes Tuesday, Nov. 1.

Homecoming Plans Revealed

The homecoming schedule, as announced by the homecoming committee of Student Council, is as follows:

Friday, Nov. 4, at 6:15 p.m. there will be a pep rally featuring the Purple Knight, The Holy Three, the marching band, cheerleaders, and Bridgettes.

At 8:30 p.m. the AGP-KBR Sword and Shield homecoming dance will take place in the Gym.

On Saturday, Nov. 5, at 11:00 a.m. the float parade will organize at Marina Circle. All displays should be completed by this time.

The parade will march to Alumni Hall for judging and then proceed to the center of town.

All floats should be enroute to Bridgeport via Main St. by noon. Judging of displays will take place at this time.

After circling the campus, the parade will end at the soccer field at 1:30 p.m. where a rally will take place prior to the soccer game. The Purple Knights will play Springfield at 2 p. m.

At 6:30 p.m. a motorcade will organize at Alumni Hall and proceed to Hedges Stadium. At 8 p.m. the football game will begin against Central Connecticut State. The halftime will feature the Homecoming Queen.

There will be a dance at either Alumni Hall or the Gym at 10:30 p.m., jointly sponsored by the homecoming and mixer committees. It will be stag or drag; admission will be 25 cents, and there will be live music.

For the afternoon of Sunday, Nov. 6, the Alumni Hall Board of Directors has expressed interest in sponsoring the Yale Wiffen-poofts if they can be obtained.

The homecoming committee requests that any student owing a sports car or convertible, who wants to be in the parade, contact them in the Student Council office. Any organization that wants to build a display or float should contact Larry Brezner in the New Dorm, or Marilyn Lipsius in Trumbull Hall for further information.

Purple and white crepe streamers will be available at no cost to any student wishing to decorate his car. They may be obtained in Alumni Hall, Saturday morning, Nov. 5.

an unnecessary remark. We also know that he has made every attempt to apologize for his action to the coach — to no avail.

If he received the same reaction to his apology that we received when we asked for clarification of the action taken, we wonder why he or any other member of the team would want to or could play his best for such a man.

Secondly, the coach was terribly hasty in his action to suspend the player. With the NCAA title still within sight and Jim Kuhlman out of action with a broken leg, it was hasty action indeed to shelve one of the University's outstanding players.

Players have been involved in fights on the field and on the street before but they haven't been removed from the squad.

In our opinion it is inexcusable to refuse to accept the player's apology, for in doing so the coach is cheating the player, the team, the University and the student body.

He must be very short sighted when he fails to realize the player in question has been very instrumental in taking this team as far as it has gone the past three seasons and has been one of the major boosters of the team spirit that prevails at the soccer games.

It might be that he would be happier with a nice quiet group of co-eds on the bench, but we don't think such a team would win the New England championship and bring him national recognition.

The soccer players at the University provide their own spirit out of force of habit, for they have had very few spectators at the games until recently. Even now, with greater student attendance there is remarkably little noise from the crowd and there are no cheerleaders or band present to cheer them on.

We express our regrets to this fine athlete who lost his position simply because he made a remark in the course of a game's excitement.

For the coach we can only express regret for the way he handled the situation and offer one suggestion. He has a fast, hard hitting group of soccer players under his direction, and there is still a chance to win the NCAA title. To Coach McKeon we say: It is not a matter of coach and player any longer. The University stands to lose. Let's work as a team again.

Final pictures for ID cards will be taken on the third floor of Alumni Hall today from 2-3:30 p. m.

expand is a new and different practice, but that the favorable experience of other states with similar programs should act as an incentive.

He stated that the program could possibly get under way by the fall semester of 1962. He believes that a special committee should be appointed by Gov. Abe Ribicoff to study the matter. In this case, he said, the committee should be far enough along to make proposals to the General Assembly for legislation covering the proposal in the spring of 1961.

Speaking for the University, the president said that all students under this program who did not wish to transfer to UConn for the last two years, but preferred to stay here, could do so if their work proved acceptable. He said that an expanded program in the lower division here would strengthen all upper division work.

It is possible, that the adoption of the upper-division plan in UConn might develop a three years-plus plan, which would bypass the bachelor's degree and culminate in a master's degree, Halsey stated.

Dr. Halsey listed four specific advantages to the program. First, he said, it is readily practical for making educational opportunities available to all who desire them. He noted that some private institutions may already be in a position to accommodate more students, and the students.

dents, and would not require any appreciable expansion until later.

A study by University vice-president Henry W. Littlefield found that these institutions, "expanded their full-time enrollment by more than six times in the past 15 years and are therefore capable of meeting the challenge of the next decade."

The second advantage, is that it would raise UConn's status and accelerate its already rapid development by making it into an exclusively upper-division college.

The third advantage is the elimination of the exceptionally high rate of freshman and sophomore dropouts at UConn who are not fit, or not interested in a four-year higher education program.

Finally, Dr. Halsey feels that the plan will save money. He gives as reasons for this the fact that no elaborate building construction would be needed, and the fact that since the faculty at UConn is already qualified for this program, there would be no desperate search for teachers. Then too, many lower-division students attending nearby junior colleges could live at home, saving themselves money. Dr. Halsey concluded that, since statistics show money invested in scholarships for students in the private community colleges will go twice as far as it would if invested in students attending public institutions, additional money will be saved by both the state and the students.

To the Editor

To the young men and women who helped me at the bus stop on Park Place and Park Ave. on Wednesday afternoon of Columbus Day when I tumbled, I want to express my sincere 'thank you'. I'm glad to know the age of chivalry is alive in our times on the UB campus.

Though I dislike singling anyone out since all were so considerate, I must for I feel special gratitude for Miss Tillie Zega's kindness. She saw me all the way home and I want her to know how much I appreciate her assistance.

Now that my foot is on the mend I can laugh at our mutual mistaken identities. I thought she was a student of nursing since she was so service oriented. She asked me what class I was in, assuming I was a fellow student.

But I am a grateful instructor on the faculty of the College of Nursing.

Sincerely
Phyllis Schlags

To the Editor:

We would like to express our gratitude to everyone in the University who participated in the visit by Vice Pres. Richard M. Nixon to Bridgeport on Oct. 17. We would especially like to thank the Scribe and the University Band.

Your attitude toward and your keen interest in this visit are indicative of well informed and concerned citizens, and exemplify the sophistication of political activity in the United States.

Student Spirit Committee Seeking Further Support

by Bobby Freedman

The Student Spirit Committee, actively organized for this year, has been formed in an attempt to bolster student participation of school-sponsored activities.

This committee is operating through three sub-divisions: activities, publicity and coordination.

Chairman Bob Lysick, a senior majoring in engineering; secretary Debbie Hartley, a sophomore majoring in education; and treasurer Dan Ianniello, a sophomore majoring in engineering, are working toward one goal, the revival of student spirit.

The Activities Division, headed by Joel Siskovic, a sophomore majoring in music, will initiate pep rallies, parades and demonstrations preceding sports events.

Under his direction are the University Band, the Bridgettes and the Purple Knight. Siskovic has planned the next rally on Nov. 4 and it will contain fewer speeches and more action to arouse a competitive spirit in the crowd.

Dan Brewster, a sophomore majoring in education, is managing the publicity committee. He will broadcast over the public address system twice each day to keep students informed of current convocations, dances and events. Formation of a weekly newsletter to adequately cover social events is under consideration.

Art assistant June Borus, a senior majoring in graphic arts, has designed posters displaying applications for membership. The posters are placed throughout the campus in dormitories and class buildings.

The coordinating committee, directed by Howard Kalinsky, was formed to discover what changes students would like in activities on campus and then try to effect these changes.

Plans are in order for a group representing every social and professional organization on campus to meet to discuss problems such as apathy toward school dances and convocations, and the closing of Alumni Hall on weekends.

Bob Lysick stated a desire to "bring back the enthusiasm the University had ten years ago. No longer is there any pageantry during Wistaria Weekend, an event which used to have meaning to the school and to the city of Bridgeport."

He summarized the problem of lack of school spirit in saying, "The school needs a loyal alumni, but in turn it needs an enthusiastic student body."

New ideas being considered are a scavenger hunt, a hayride and the renting of a ferry. Plans also include the renewed operation of a campus radio station, in timing with the new industrial-radio engineering program.

Student response, however, is needed to initiate any new activities on campus. The Student Spirit Committee needs participants to make posters, announce over the P.A., do secretarial work, conduct student polls and form a cheering section at rallies. Students interested in joining the committee may do so by contacting Bob Lysick at the Student Council Office.

Pledging Rules Adopted by IFC

The new rules for pledging, as adopted by the IFC, were announced by Eugene F. Conray, chairman of the pledging affairs committee.

Names of all prospective pledges must be handed in to William Wright, director of Student Activities by Monday, Oct. 31. The names will be returned Nov. 3, and a complete program of pledge activities must be submitted by Nov. 4. Included in this must be a general day by day account of what is expected of the pledges, and a detailed account of all "Hell Night", "Pledge Trips", and "Treasure Hunt" activities.

"According to University policy", said Wright, eligible students are those whose average is 2.0 or higher, who have attended the University for at least one semester, or who are graduates of a junior college."

He added that the University does not condone pledge trips, that a substitute activity is encouraged, and that the fraternity must take full responsibility for any repercussions if trips are held. Pledges cannot be left alone in unfamiliar areas. They must be given money and means of transportation, and must be accompanied by a brother at all times.

Speaking for the Pledging Affairs Committee, Conray said that due to the difficulties and extremely bad publicity the University received last year, the committee hopes that extreme caution and common sense will be used this semester. Any questions regarding pledging can be directed to Conray or any other member of the pledging affairs committee.

UB Delegates Attend SEA Conference Student of the Week

Laurence Bagley, director of Field Services, Maine Teachers Association, spoke on "Federal Support of Education" at the Third Annual Student National Education Association Northeast Regional Conference at Peterborough, N.H.

Student delegates from the University were Rona Lazin, Carol Kamarack, Judith Krawitz, Phoebe Gelford and faculty advisor, Samuel Gomez.

The more than eighty representatives from all the New England States adopted a resolution urging "immediate appropriation of substantial federal funds to be used by the states for support of public elementary and secondary education."

Declaring that "control of education should remain in the hands of the state and local authorities," the students at the same time expressed their major share in the financial support of the nation's schools. In a vote the students urged that "federal funds be used for school construction and/or teachers salaries."

Richard M. Carrigan, Assistant Secretary of the National Committee on Teacher Education and Professional Standards, informed the group about "New Horizons" of The National Education Association. The "New Horizons" is a program which defines and sets the standards and goals of the organization. One part of this plan is the hope to eliminate unfit teachers, raise the teaching requirements and raise teachers salaries.

A strong discussion on increasing the S.E.A. membership led to three recommendations. There should be more S.E.A. field workers to define and explain this organization to the teacher and student teacher. There should be a more effective system of communication, and thirdly, the teachers should work to improve their organization on a local, state and national level. Without a strong internal structure, the group cannot succeed.

Dr. Carroll Palmer, faculty advisor to the University branch of the S.E.A., has announced that, due to increased membership, more enthusiasm, greater faculty support and a larger treasury, he feels that this will be S.E.A.'s most successful year to date.

S.E.A. now has a membership of 207, which makes it the largest organization at the University, and the second largest education association in Connecticut.

Charles Abraham, curriculum consultant of the Fairfield school system, and president of Bridgeport's graduate club, was guest speaker at a recent meeting in the Lincoln Room of the Library. Abraham spoke on "Future Trends in Education".

He stressed that "we must no longer concentrate on teaching children subject matter, but rather on teaching them a process to solve all the problems that will be arising, due to our complex changing society, so that they will have security of technique behind them. The way in which we must do this is to secure more and better teachers," Abraham added.

On Nov. 15, there will be a confab in New Haven to discuss a "New Horizons" project of S.E.A. Confabs are also scheduled for discussion on job opportunities, international policies, methodology and S.E.A. versus American Federation of Teachers.

"If the University expects to meet the needs of the future, I feel that it should plan accordingly, on a long term rather than a short term basis," said Mike Chodorcoff in a recent Scribe interview.

As President of the Interfraternity Council, Mike feels that the University is not farsighted in its planning, and cites the dining room and its inadequate facilities as an example.

Since he came to the University in 1958, Mike feels that higher admission requirements have raised the University standards. He adds, however, that spirit is still not as intense as it should be.

A graduate of West Orange high school, Mike is majoring in political science, and hopes to attend graduate school after he leaves the University in 1962. He recently applied for admission to Pi Gamma Mu, the National Social Science Honorary Society.

While heading the IFC, Mike hopes to see a more closely knit organization, "with all the Greeks together instead of working as individual organizations." He also hopes to see a successful, rather than a disappointing IFC Week-end.

Mike is now recording secretary for the Sociology Colloquium, vice-pres. of the Ski Club, and Sergeant-at-Arms of Phi Omega Chi Fraternity.

Looking into the future, Mike would like to see Alumni Hall turned over to the IFC, so that fraternities and sororities would have their own place to meet.

Homecoming Group Now Organized

The Student Council recently announced the organization of a Student Council Homecoming Committee, in which the representatives of four organizations and the colleges represented on the Council will serve as members.

Representing the IFC will be Laurence Brezner, a sophomore majoring in psychology; the Woman's House Government representative will be Susan Chary, a senior majoring in education and Elliot Minnberg, a senior majoring in psychology represents the Alumni Hall Board of Directors. Men's Senate has not chosen a representative as yet.

The colleges represented are as follows: Weylister School, Elizabeth M. Bohn, a junior majoring in medical secretarial studies; College of Nursing, Eleanor C. Guerrero, a senior majoring in nursing; Arnold College, Nancy Lee Vandergriff, a sophomore majoring in physical education; College of Education, Marilyn Lipsius, a junior majoring in elementary education; College of Engineering, Robert W. Lysik, a senior majoring in mechanical engineering; College of Arts and Science, Joan F. Flynn, a senior majoring in chemistry and the Fones School of Dental Hygiene, Linda Ann Tobias, a sophomore majoring in dental hygiene. Thomas F. Gorman is representing the administration.

DENTAL CLINIC

The University Dental Clinic will take any student or resident of Bridgeport for an examination and cleaning if an appointment is made two weeks in advance, says Dr. Robert Strang, professor of Dental Hygiene.

The Clinic will be open every Wednesday and a charge of 50 cents will include teeth cleaning, examination and x-rays.

SC Committees Organized

Frank Mizak, president of the Student Council, has announced that the Council has agreed to allow membership to standing committees for interested students that are not members of Council. However, he added that the chairmanship of the committees will be reserved for Council members.

The purpose of the various committees are as follows: Convocation and Jacoby Lecture Committee recommends speakers and selects topics for weekly convocations and the Jacoby Lectures. The purpose of the Constitution Committee is to see that amendments and by-laws are kept up to date and that the students are aware of the contents of the constitution and the benefits it offers to them. The Homecoming Committee is composed of members from Women's House Government, Men's Senate, the Alumni Hall Board of Directors, the Interfraternity Council, representatives from the eight colleges and divisions and student members.

The purpose of the Student Dress Committee is to present the viewpoints of the student body toward toward dress. The Suggestion Box Committee places suggestion boxes in the dorms dining hall, Alumni Hall and encourages student ideas regarding changes they would like to make.

The Athletic Policy Committee coordinates suggestions of the students and Student Council with the athletic department in an attempt to foster better athletic policy on campus. The Parking Committee's purpose is to coordinate with the planning commission of the University in regards to the methods and means of eliminating the parking problem. Both the General Discipline Committee and the Ethics Committee deal with student discipline and ethical problems.

The Commencement Committee plans senior week and graduation activities. However, its membership is not limited to seniors. The Student Spirit Committee is split into three sub-committees consisting of activities, student spirit and publicity.

Students interested in joining one of the committees are asked to fill out this form, cut it out and put it in the Student Council Mailbox on the second floor of Alumni Hall no later than Oct. 31.

International Group To Form on Campus

The International Student Organization, made up of students from foreign lands and the United States plans to organize a branch on campus.

The ISO is interested in getting members, students and faculty, who are interested in discussions with citizens of other nations, stated representative Edward Rosenbluh. He added that the goal of the group is to break down cultural differences through communication.

Prof. George Stanley, foreign student advisor, will give a short talk about the organization when it has its first meeting.

Seawall Offers Football Awards

The Seawall Restaurant will sponsor an outstanding lineman and outstanding back award at the homecoming game against Central Connecticut Teachers College.

The two trophies to be presented are 26 and 29 inches tall and are on display at the "Wall."

The judges for picking the gridders will be the Brothers Dinahian, John, Nels and Richie, and one representative from each fraternity on campus.

The presentation will be made on the field immediately following the game.

This award will be an annual one and it will be based on the performances in the homecoming game alone, and not on the entire season.

FOREIGN FILMS

"Pather Panchali," Grand Prix winner at the Cannes Film Festival, will be shown at the University tomorrow night.

The movie is scheduled for 8:00 p.m. in Dana 102. A short subject, Charlie Chaplin in "The Fireman," will also be shown.

This is the second movie to be shown in the University's Foreign Film Festival.

O, Student Spirit, where hast thou so mysteriously fled? Certainly our school spirit has not left us completely, it is merely hiding and will not show its wholesome face until we, the students of UB, come out of our individual hiding places.

Our spirit seems to be confined to bar rooms, dormitory lounges, and remote corners of Alumni Hall. This kind of spirit is fine, but far from adequate. We need some enthusiasm at soccer games, "mixers", and many other functions at which student participation has previously been poor.

The relatively small number of students who have been consistently loyal and conscientious in supporting their school have been doing a remarkably good job, but they can by no means make up for the spirit which we lack.

Our unlimited spirit is reflected by the regular two-dozen who faithfully attend the soccer games, and watch our excellent players kick their way to victory. As for the "mixers" the first one was not too good, and the second was worse.

The relative failure of the mixers is surprising because these mixers provide a splendid chance for students to become acquainted and to enjoy a wide variety of music and dances.

Let's get into the act spiritual-ly! It costs so little, yet can provide so much fun. Let's all some day to proud to tell our grandchildren true stories about our college escapades.

Steve Peltz, a transfer student from the University of Vermont and presently registered as a sophomore in pre-med, has volunteered to start a coeducational fencing club, that will hold its practices from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. each Monday and Friday in the Arnold Room.

The Brothers of Sigma Lambda Chi fraternity recently announced their officers for the coming year. President is William Serlin; vice president, Hank Silverman; secretary, Bob Stein; treasurer, Bob Mayer; historian, Gerry Gallat and sergeant-at-arms, Walt Zuckerman. Jacques Farrel, Norm Guerring and Harvey Herer will act as pledgemasters for the semester.

Judy Krawitz was recently seen at an SEA convention where she made it quite obvious that she was interested in the young man who accompanied her. Jeff, no. 87 of UB's football squad seems to be allergic to all perfumes except one — that of Jean N'Ate.

Although Joy Polito is not attending school full time this semester, she and Dick have not missed a single social function.

The football team's new mascot is said to be a "Beaver." Frank Mizak, well known student leader, suffered a broken finger while he was engaging in feats of physical strength. Bob Stober is still in bad spirits, as he has not yet recovered from the Pittsburgh Pirates victory in the world series.

Joe Bober is still complaining that IDP did not have enough table room at the Playboy dance despite the fact that he was stealing tables and chairs from everyone else.

Jerry Zabielski has exchanged his bad habits for a pinmate, Marilyn Kuzma. Happy days to Jerry and Marilyn. At a recent KBR party Jim Smith was playing Santa Claus to a group of young ladies.

Last week, after the football game a bit of a blast was held at Bolla's where the back door was taped so that no one could escape. The party was so crowded that couples were standing in the bathtub.

Apologies to Thelma, what was such an undisputed success at the TS "Greenwich village" party, for forgetting to give her the publicity she deserved last week. By the way Thelma, we're glad to hear that your business is booming.

Irene Weisman, Robin Altieri, and Judy Heinle made a journey to Westpoint last weekend to take in some of the good-looking scenery there. The happy trio spent the evening dining and dancing with the scenery — those tall cadets.

During a cup of coffee in the "beatnick room" of Alumni Hall, a creature dressed like one of the Klu Klux Klan stormed into the basement door and began shouting smear Upsala! smear Upsala!

So that no one is frightened in the future, this creature was only one of the Unholy Three who are sponsored by our worthy Student Spirit Committee. If anyone is interested in assisting this committee, he is asked to contact Dan Brewster or Bob Lysick.

The brothers of POC are again preparing for another "Good" semester of pledging on and around the campus. The "Forty Thieves" will be led by Co-pledgemasters Ken Kassin and Dick Weiss. The boys promise quite a few changes for the coming year.

FOOTBALL FILM

Films of the UB-Upsala football game, which was played last Saturday, will be shown at 11 a. m. today in the Dana Lecture Hall. All students are invited to attend.

JOLTIN' JOHN — John Majesko, one of the hard-hitting players on the varsity soccer team, added more goals to his credit Saturday when he hammered in three of the seven tallies made against Hartford for the squad's 7-1 victory. Majesko was the team's high scorer last season. (Photo by Muniec)

BOOTERS ANNEX FIFTH

By Jim Hill

UB's winning soccer team put number five away Saturday when they met the University of Hartford and trampled them to the tune of 7-1. This contest, played at Hartford, boosts the Purple Knights' record to five wins and no losses.

Bridgeport gave their opponents an early example of what was to come when they took the ball straight downfield, passed it around a few times, and slammed it home after only 35 seconds of play. John Majesko did the scoring on a pass from Jon Olson, his center forward. Majesko also provided number two, and Olson made it 3-0 at 15:50 to wind up the first period scoring. Hans Zucker got the only score of the next quarter when he took a pass from Bob Dikranian and crammed the long one past three men into the left corner of the cage.

Hartford came alive in the third period when John Flaherty assisted George Lasnier in their only score of the day. John Majesko came right back for the Knights, making it 5-1 after he took a pass from Zucker, dribbled around the enemy's goalie, and pushed a short one into the net.

Bob Dikranian, UB's speedy left wing, got his for the day at 2:16 of the final quarter. Paul Feeley wound things up ten minutes later when, after being in the game for only 30 seconds, he took a pass from Harry Windsor and put number seven between the posts.

Majesko, Zucker and Olson were all highly influential in this win, Majesko being responsible for three of the seven goals, and Zucker and Olson each scoring once and assisting once.

The Purple Knights are definitely on their way now that they have gotten past the midpoint mark on the schedule, and they are going to be very hard to stop from going all the way. The support from the student body has not been good, but we are hoping that it will pick up now that the booters have proven themselves.

They meet Albany State Teachers College this Saturday at 2 p. m. at Seaside Park. It's a weekend and it's a home game, so let's see everyone there.

LAST QUARTER TD DOWNS UPSALA

by Marty Riger

The Purple Knights, returned to winning ways Friday night, when they traveled to Orange, N.J., and overwhelmed the men from Upsala College, 21-14.

The score was not indicative of the game. The Knights were far in front of the Vikings in every department including score.

A Pete DeGregorio TD pass to Mike Oshan, late in the fourth quarter proved to be the deciding tally for the "D" men.

UB opened the scoring in the first quarter. Late in the quarter the Knights took possession of the pigskin on their own 45 yard line. Sparked by the running of Oshan, who carried for gains of 22, 8 and 10 yards, the UB offense moved the ball down to the Upsala 22 yard line. Walt Czekaj then took a Larry Pasquale pitch out and skirted the end for 22 yards and paydirt. Oshan then plunged over for the conversion and the Knights held an 8-0 advantage.

The Vikings roared back in the same stanza to knot the score. Upsala quarterback Charlie Cocuzza threw a 35 yard TD pass to John Ditrani and Bill Schrimpe plunged for the conversion and the score was tied.

The second quarter was a stalemate. Both teams had scoring opportunities but the defenses tightened and there was no score. In this quarter Captain Angelo Palumbo intercepted a Viking pass and ran it back 40 yards but the clock ran out and the score at halftime was tied at 8.

In the second half the Knights again drew first blood. Starting a drive on their own 30 yard line the "D"men moved the ball to the Upsala 19 yard line. The running of Czekaj, Oshan and Sophomore Fullback Rick Conetta was instrumental in this attack. From the 19 yard line Pasquale threw a flag pass to John "Boola" Aires and the score was 14-8, in favor of the UB men. Palumbo kicked off and Viking halfback, Jim Apple took the "oblate spheroid" and did not stop until he was in the end zone. Apple's runback of the kickoff covered 70 yards.

The score remained tied until late in the fourth quarter. With two minutes remaining in the game the Knights found themselves on their own 46 yard line.

Sensing a tie, the men from UB decided to gamble. On two successive plays DeGregorio was unsuccessful on passes to Czekaj and Bob Lesko. On the third down Pete D. spotted Oshan deep in Viking territory.

Timing the sophomore perfectly, "digger" put the ball right in Oshan's outstretched hands and the speedy halfback raced over the goal line, making the score 21-14.

Defensively, the Knights were again close to perfect. Ignited by Captain Palumbo, John Kopka, Rudy Valentine and Jim Smith, the defense held the Vikings to a mere 87 yards on the ground. UB picked up 222 yards on the ground and 117 in the air compared to Upsala's 37. Bridgeport also picked up 16 first downs as compared to the Vikings 9. As you can see, the final score was not indicative of the game.

Oshan picked up 96 yards, Czekaj, 78 yards and Conetta, 35 yards to lead the Knights of offense and Palumbo was voted the outstanding lineman by the sportswriters and sportscasters present at the game.

The Knights travel to Long Island this weekend and encounter C.W. Post's Pioneers. Post, thus far have a three win, two setback record. Hofstra had a tough time with this school and beat them 20-6.

There was a nice turnout at the Upsala game. Let's see if we can continue cheering our team on. My prediction for this week, Bridgeport 26.

MIKE OSHAN, flashy halfback on the varsity football team, was named to the "Outstanding Sophomore Team of the Week" by the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference recently.

People who like Schaefer can't keep it under their hats for long... because Schaefer delivers first-beer pleasure every beer through. Always make it Schaefer all around!
